Money is important and mighty nice to have, but it is not everything. This theory was clearly demonstrated in a story that impressed The Herald editor which he read in a church publication the other day. It was by Merrill D. Moore. Portions of the article are reproduced:

"Why can't we be rich? Why can't my father make more money for us?"

My questioner was Harold, who is fifteen-His friends in school come, for the most part, from well-to-do homes. They have most of the things that a boy would want. And there is ample spending money for the children.

Harold's question was not an idle one to him. It had a cutting edge to it. It was plain that there was some resentment in his heart that his father had not made a great deal of money. He did not seek to hide his feelings.

What could I say that would be of real help to him? I thought back to when I was a boy. It was not difficult to remember some experiences, some problems and some ques-

The pants, a certain pair of pants, that I wore for several years came quickly to my mind. They were surely and noticeably of a cheaper quality than those some of the other boys in my class wore. Their bicycles were new and shiny. Mine had been bought second-hand for $10.

But I did not remember any resentment in my heart even for one moment. It was clear to me that it had been necessary for my father to work mighty hard just to make ends meet for a rather large family. I confess that on occasions I wished that there could be just a little bit more. Then we could have done many things that all of us wanted so much to do. Mother had worked awfully hard, too, to help stretch out the family income. If

Yet, many years the Mexican capital in Clements' ago I learned to be very thankful for him and for what he did earn. Long before he died I thanked God that he gave me something worth far more than money."

Quickly Harold asked, "What?"

"A sense of values which made it possible for me to know things that are of more worth. And high ideals."

"There was one schoolmate whose clothes and spending money I most wished I could equal. Then years later, after a series of failures in business, after his home was broken by divorce, and after several experiences which showed basic lacks in his character, he took his own life. In my boyhood years I had wished so much I had the things his reproduced from the issue of The father was able to give him. "Any young man to whom his father gives these things is one of the richest men." "I guess you are right," said Harold.

See the Difference?

188-hp Buick Special 6-Passenger, 4-Door RIVIERA, Model 43

This 4-Door Beauty is the Newest Hit in Hardtops

you certainly ought to come in and see for yourself why this new kind of hardtop is headed for the best-seller list.

It's a Buick Riviera, of course.

Which means the low and rakish look of a Convertible - a solid steel roof overhead and no center posts in the side window areas to obstruct your view.

But that's only the beginning.

Here you get two extra doors. They open to the rear compartment. So no one in the front has to move when someone gets into or out of the rear.

Here, too, you get wholly new principles in body design and strength that give the extra safety of rock-firm solidity at the top, sides and bottom.

And here-bless those Buick engineers!-you get a lot more room in the rear compartment. For the 4-Door Riviera gives you over 9 inches more hiproom and 5 inches more legroom - yet with no increase in wheelbase or over-all car length.

So we repeat-you certainly ought to come in and see this stunning new kind of hardtop.

It's the very last word in beauty, comfort, convenience. It's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series - the Special and the CENTURY. And it's all Buick - with Buick power, Buick ride, Buick handling-and the spectacular performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

Safety Check of Car Reduces Chances for Injuries to All Family

"Now's the time to have your ear safety checked!"

E. C. McFadden of Dallas, president of the Texas Safety Association, Inc. gave this advice to Texas motorists this week as he urged them to support the vehicle safety check program recommended by the Texas Safety Association, Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

All homemakers endorse this program for two reasons, McFadden said. The first is that a safety check of the family car will reduce the chances of any member of the family being involved in a traffic accident. The second reason is that it is more economical to repair a car when trouble is just starting than it is after the damage has become more exten-

"All of us," McFadden said, "are Interested in our family's safety and pocketbook. So we ought to see to it that the family car gets a thorough check regularly,

"If all Texans give the vehicle safety check program their active support," McFadden said, "there will be few unsafe cars on our streets at any time."

CAVE USED AS ARSENAL.

During the Civil War the Confederate Army used Texas' Longhorn Cavern near Burnet as an arsenal to manufacture and store gun powder. The explosive was made from the guano of bats which inhabit the vast cave.

Safety Check of Car Reduces Chances for Injuries to All Family

"Now's the time to have you ear safety checked!"

E. C. McFadden of Dallas, president of the Texas Safety Asso ciation, Inc. gave this advice to Texas motorists this week as he urged them to support the vehicle safety check program recommended by the Texas Safety Association, Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

All homemakers endorse this program for two reasons, McFadden said. The first is that a safety check of the family car will reduce the chances of any member of the family being involved in a traffic accident. The second reason is that it is more economical to repair a car when trouble is just starting than it is after the damage has become more exten-

"All of us." McFadden said, "are Interested in our family's safety and pocketbook. So we ought to see to it that the family car gets a thorough check regularly.

"If all Texans give the vehicle safety check program their active support," McFadden said, "there will be few unsafe cars on our streets at any time."

CAVE USED AS ARSENAL.

During the Civil War the Confederate Army used Texas' Longhorn Cavern near Burnet as an arsenal to manufacture and store gun powder. The explosive was made from the guano of bats which inhabit the vast cave.

STRAY BULLETS.

It was out on the rifle range, and the green recruits were curdling the blood of the tough old Army rifle instructor. He stomped over to the prone form of one rookie whose misses were nothing short of spectacular.

"Son, where the blazes are your shots going?" the sergeant belowed in his finest tones.

The rookie looked up innocent-"I dunno, sir," he replied. "They're leaving this end all right."

DIVISION OF SEPARATE

ESTATES BY STATUTE

EXPLAINED.

The death of an intestate person (one who has made no will)

may give rise to many problems regarding distribution of his separate estate. In the preceding column we investigated the manner of dividing the community estate upon the death of a hus-oand or wife. Now we shall see that, where separate property is involved, a completely different set of rules applies in determining heirship and apportioning the estate among the rightful claim-

It may be well to recall that the separate estate of a husband or wife includes property owned by either before marriage, and that which is acquired after marriage by gift or inheritance. Any other property acquired after marriage is presumed by law to be

Now suppose your husband or wife survives, but there are no surviving children or their descendants. In this case the surviving spouse inherits all of the personal property involved. With regard to real estate, the survivor obtains full title to one-half, and the other half is divided between your mother and father, if both survive you. If only one of them survives, he or she receives only half of this portion, and the other half (one one-fourth of the entire real estate) will be divided among your brothers and sisters (and their descendants) who survive. If there are no surviving brothers and sisters and State draft headquarters at Austin Tuesday was preparing to send cut a call to local boards for physical examinations for the first time in about six months.

2,000 men over the state exumined during July was made at state selective service headquarters Monday, Lieutenant Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, deputy state director, said.

The calls for the men to undergo the combined physical and mental examinations will be mail ed out to local boards sometime during the first week in June, Colonel Schwartz said.

The decision to have the men examined followed receipt of the Texas induction call for July from national selective service headquarters. This call for 550 men compares with a quota of 349 for June and 544 for May. Local board quoas for July induction also will be mailed the first week in June.

The last physical-mental examinations for men registered with Texas draft boards was in January. Only special cases have been examined since that time, Colonel Schwartz said, usually less than 100 men a month.

The July quota of 550 men for induction into the Army is the Texas share of a national quota of 10,000 men for the Army.

With the exception of volunteers, the July induction call will be filled only with men who on July 1 are at least 21 years of property, which passes on to the age, the deputy state director of

PARENTS CAN GIVE THEIR CHILDREN CHARACTER

Money is important and mighty nice to have, but it is not everything. This theory was clearly demonstrated in a story that impressed The Herald editor which he read in a church publication the other day. It was by Merrill D. Moore. Portions of the article are reproduced:

"Why can't we be rich? Why can't my father make more money for us?"

My questioner was Harold, who is fifteen. His friends in school come, for the most part, from well-to-do homes. They have most of the things that a boy would want. And there is ample spending money for the children.

Harold's question was not an idle one to him. It had a cutting edge to it. It was plain that there was some resentment in his heart that his father had not made a great deal of money. He did not seek to hide his feelings.

What could I say that would be of real help to him? I thought back to when I was a boy. It was not difficult to remember some experiences, some problems and some ques-

The pants, a certain pair of pants, that I wore for several years came quickly to my mind. They were surely and noticeably of a cheaper quality than those some of the other boys in my class wore. Their bicycles were new and shiny. Mine had been bought second-hand for $10.

But I did not remember any resentment in my heart even for one moment. It was clear to me that it had been necessary for my father to work mighty hard just to make ends meet for a rather large family. I confess that ions I wished that there could be just a little bit more. Then we could have done many things that all of us wanted so much to do. Mother had worked awfully hard, too, to help stretch out the family income. If there were any complaint because she could have very few dresses and no visits to a beauty parlor, there was never any sign of it that we children could see.

thought another moment. Then I began Ira Clements and son, Billy, and to reply to my friend Harold: "I will tell you frankly that I used to wonder why my father did not make more money. Yet, many years the Mexican capital in Clements' ago I learned to be very thankful for him and for what he did earn. Long before he died ! thanked God that he gave me something worth far more than money."

Quickly Harold asked, "What?"

"A sense of values which made it possible for me to know things that are of more worth. And high ideals."

Many memories flashed past my mind. I shared a few of them with Harold. There was one in particular.

"There was one schoolmate whose clothes and spending money I most wished I could Bob Low, A. D. Ensey, C. C. equal. Then years later, after a series of failures in business, after his home was broken by divorce, and after several experiences which showed basic lacks in his character, he took his own life. In my boyhood years I had wished so much I had the things his reproduced from the issue of The father was able to give him. In my grownup years I have wished that his father had given him the more valuable things my father was able to give me. Now, I had rather have what my father gave me than to have all the Mexico, where he has accepted a money that my'friend ever saw, much less had.

'Faith in God, high ideals for living, a willingness to work, a sense of responsibility, a desire to serve God, and the determination to make one's life count in helping a needy Seaman First Class Clarence D. world—these things are worth more than the gold in Fort Knox.

"Any young man to whom his father gives these things is one of the richest men."

"I guess you are right," said Harold.

Editorial of the Week Faith Is Basic in Life

Faith has an affinity with happiness, contentment, confidence and all the things that are essential to a well-rounded existence. Were it not for faith in the fact of a universal power, guiding the movements of the planetary bodies, man would be overcome with imminent fear of disaster.

A man's faith in himself is arrived at when he decides he must take himself for better or worse; when he puts his heart into his every effort, disregarding imitative measures and being original in his thoughts and ideas. It is the easiest way to live according to the world's opinion, and it is easy in solitude to live after our own; but when a man in the midst of a crowded world keeps the independence of his solitude, he has faith in himself.

There is not a man living who has not faith. Everything a man does toward the future is an act of faith. In the simple art of retiring to bed a man has faith that a new day will welcome him.

So, too, in religion a man's conformity is not surely a sign of sincere faith. But the true meaning is shown by his endeavors. When we endeavor to make of our individual communities a better place in which to live, grow and prosper, then we surely show faith in ourselves, our felowman and Divine Being

The Vanishing American

Some years ago, during the depression, a government agent traveled through the Tennessee mountains, making small allotments to impoverished farmers for seed, stock or needed improvements. He found one woman - who lived alone, scratching a bare living on two acres of barren ground.

AN ELEVENTH COMMANDMENT

Some time ago the United States government sent one of its leading soil scientists, Dr. Walter V. Lowdermilk, associate chief of the Soil Conservation Service, to the Near East, to learn if possible why the vast population and flourishing cities of Biblical times had ceased to exist.

Dr. Lowdermilk and his party made exhaustive examinations of many thousands of square miles. They inspected ruined cities, many of which they found buried deep under the products of soil erosion, ancient abandoned irrigation systems, dried-up streams, barren desert and remnants of one-time forest-

From his finds reported in "The Conquest of the Land Through Seven Thousand Years" Dr. Lowdermilk concluded that man's failure to be a good steward of God's gift to mankind was the direct cause of the waste and desolation that greeted his eyes.

Before leaving, Dr. Lowdermilk was invited to make a radio broadcast in Jerusalem summarizing his findings. Pondering what he might say, the night before, he wondered if Moses might not have added an eleventh commandment to the children of Israel had he been forewarned of the calamity to befall the land. He put his thoughts on paper and broadcast for the first time what since has become known as the eleventh command-

"Thou shalt inherit the holy earth as a faithful steward, conserving its resources and productivity from generation to generation. Thou shalt safeguard thy fields from soil erosion, thy living waters from drying up, thy forests from desolation, and protect thy hills ton, pastor. from over-grazing by thy herds, that thy descendants may have abundance forever. If any shall fail in this stewardship of the land, of .18 of an inch fluked the good thy fruit fields shall become sterile, stony ground and wasting gullies, and thy descendants shall decrease and live in poverty or perish from of fthe face of the earth."-The

CITY OF HAMLIN

For the Year Ended April 30, 1955

Honorable Mayor and Aldermen The City of Hamlin

Gentlemen:

In accordance with your request, we have made an examination of the books and records of The City of Hamlin, Hamlin, Texas, for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1955, to the extent and in the manner hereinafter indicated and present our audit herewith

Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and included all procedures which we considered necessary. In our opinion, the accompanying Balance Sheet and statements of revenue, expenditures and surplus present fairly the financial position of the City at April 30, 1955 and the results of operations for the year then ended. Respectively submitted.

188-hp Buick Special 6-Passenger, 4-Door RIVIERA, Model 43

This 4-Door Beauty is the Newest Hit in Hardtops

You certainly ought to come in and see for yourself why this new kind of hardtop is headed for the best-seller list.

It's a Buick Riviera, of course.

Which means the low and rakish look of a Convertible - a solid steel roof overhead and no center posts in the side window areas to obstruct your view.

But that's only the beginning.

Here you get two extra doors. They open to the rear compartment. So no one in the front has to move when someone gets into or out of the rear.

Here, too, you get wholly new principles in body design and strength that give the extra safety of rock-firm solidity at the top, sides and bottom.

And here-bless those Buick engineers!-you get a lot more room in the rear compartment.

Thrill of the year

For the 4-Door Riviera gives you over 9 inches more hiproom and 5 inches more legroom - yet with no increase in wheelbase or over-all car length.

So we repeat-you certainly ought to come in and see this stunning new kind of hardtop.

It's the very last word in beauty, comfort, convenience. It's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series - the Special and the CENTURY, And it's all Buick - with Buick power, Buick ride, Buick handling-and the spectacular performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

Drop in today-tomorrow at the latest-and learn what Buick's all time record sales year can mean to you in the way of a whopping. big trade-in deal.

* Variable Pitch Dynaslow is the only Dynaslow Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost

Safety Check of Car Reduces Chances for Injuries to All Family

"Now's the time to have your car safety checked!"

E. C. McFadden of Dallas, president of the Texas Safety Association, Inc. gave this advice to Texas motorists this week as he urged them to support the vehicle safety check program recommended by the Texas Safety Association, Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

All homemakers endorse this program for two reasons, McFadden said. The first is that a safety check of the family car will reduce the chances of any member of the family being involved in a traffic accident. The second reason is that it is more economical to repair a car when trouble is just starting than it is after the damage has become more exten-

"All of us," McFadden said, "are Interested in our family's safety and pocketbook. So we ought to see to it that the family car gets a thorough check regularly.

Perfume is a magic potion when it is used with subtle skill. It probably has brought strong men to their knees, changed the map of the world and helped write exciting chapters in the diaries of fair ladies of history. It has been a force for good and a force for evil. But it is the most flagrantly abused accessory a woman owns.

There is no one perfume to suit every woman. Scents must be used in varying degrees by different types to achieve the proper amount of essence something to do with body chemistry. But a woman who is a "heady" type is likely to consider that license for showering herself in the stuff. The scent is not part of her as it should be. Safety Check of Car Reduces Chances for Injuries to All Family

E. C. McFadden of Dallas, president of the Texas Safety Association, Inc. gave this advice to Texas motorists this week as he urged them to support the vehicle safety check program recommended by the Texas Safety Association, Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

All homemakers endorse this program for two reasons, McFadden said. The first is that a safety check of the family car will reduce the chances of any member of the family being involved in a traffic accident. The second reason is that it is more economical to repair a car when trouble is just starting than it is after the damage has become more exten-

"All of us," McFadden said, "are Interested in our family's safety and pocketbook. So we ought to see to it that the family car gets a thorough check regularly.

"If all Texans give the vehicle safety check program their active support," McFadden said, "there will be few unsafe cars on our streets at any time.'

Draftees Ordered For First Physicals In Past Six Months

December...... 1.63

Totals..... 21.09

A number of young men under he jurisdiction of the Anson draft poard, serving Jones, Haskell and Shackelford Counties, are due to be called for physical examina-

State draft headquarters at Austin Tuesday was preparing to send out a call to local boards for physical examinations for the irst time in about six months.

2.000 men over the state eximned during July was made at state selective service headquarters Monday, Lieutenant Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, deputy state dergo the combined physical and Colonel Schwartz said.

examined followed receipt of the national selective service headcompares with a quota of 349 for June and 544 for May. Local board quoas for July induction also will be mailed the first week

The last physical-mental examinations for men registered with Texas draft boards was in January. Only special cases have been examined since that time Colonel Schwartz said, usually less than 100 men a month.

The July quota of 550 men for induction into the Army is the Texas share of a national quota of 10,000 men for the Army.

With the exception of volunteers, the July induction call will be filled only with men who on July 1 are at least 21 years of selective service said.
